Bequests:

A charitable bequest is simply a distribution from your estate to a charitable organization through your last will and testament. It indicates your desire to leave something of value to Chase the Music for its future work. There are different kinds of bequests. A charitable bequest can be a specific dollar amount or a percentage of the value of your total estate, a gift or stock, life insurance or real estate. For each, you must use very specific language to indicate the precise direction of your assets, and to successfully carry out your final wishes

We welcome gifts of all types and promise to put your gift to the best use possible.

Contact us for suggested language for your bequest.

Use of gifts:

Chase the Music will use your gift to further the mission of Chase the Music. Your gift will help to create and deliver original music for children battling critical illnesses. If you have specific requests for the usage of your donation, (i.e. to support a specific child's composition) please contact us directly or notate that with your donation.

Endowment fund:

Chase the Music is maintaining an endowment fund, for the long-term stability and sustainability of the organization. These funds are held and invested, with the intent of being able to weather storms of reduced giving, financial insecurity, or greater need.
